

Skylake Yosemite Camp - Code of Conduct and Respect

1. Respect Yourself

This is paramount throughout life. It is my responsibility to take care of and respect myself. This includes practicing good hygiene, getting enough sleep, wearing appropriate clothing, and making healthy personal choices. Counselors and Directors are available always to help.

2. Respect Other Campers

It will be my responsibility as a camper at Skylake Yosemite Camp to at all times honor and respect every other camper. My time spent at Skylake shall be a time when I treat every other camper as I would wish to be treated by the other campers. Bullying or aggressive behavior will never be tolerated. The community of friendship, tolerance, and peer respect at Skylake are paramount.

3. Respect Staff

It will be my responsibility as a camper to at all times to respect every Skylake staff member. Whether it be my counselor, a cook, or administrator, I understand they are hired to do a job and will respect their work. I will always be a positive influence and assist the staff to the best of my ability. I understand the Directors are always available to me should I ever need assistance and I will always be heard by them.

4. Respect for Skylake

It will be my responsibility to at all times respect Skylake Yosemite Camp. I understand that Skylake has a long history of providing a safe and nurturing summer home for campers since 1945. I pledge to make sure Skylake is a better place because I was there and that I will do nothing to dishonor the camp but to build upon its legacy.

5. Respect for Property

It will be my responsibility at all times to respect the personal property of Skylake Yosemite Camp, the Forest Land, property of other Skylake campers and staff. This includes asking permission before using anything that does not belong to you. This also includes not littering or creating graffiti, not damaging trees, plants, or camp buildings, and being respectful towards camp's neighbors.
